HISTORIC MAKATI CITY TOUR - DEPARTS FROM MANILA

Unveil the history of the city that has evolved to become metro Manila's most modern city as well as the Philippine's premier business and financial center.

Our first stop is the Nielson Tower along Ayala Avenue. Proceeding to the Museo ng Makati, we will see the city's glorious past is in full display through paintings, murals, film-showings, stage presentations, lectures, workshops and exhibits. The museum itself is housed in an old structure built in 1918 that served as the first town hall of the then municipality of Makati.

We will also stop at the Saints Peter and Paul Parish, the first and oldest church in Makati. Built in 1620 its intricate design and Spanish type architecture make it a notable structure. Nearby, we will stop at the parish church of Our Lady of Guadalupe built by the Augustinian friars in 1629. Often referred to as the "Guadalupe Ruins," the original church was of Doric structure with massive buttresses to support its vault of hewn stones taken from the still visible but extinct Guadalupe Quarry.

From Guadalupe, we will proceed to the American Cemetery and Memorial. Our tour ends at the Ayala Center where guests have the option to take an optional tour of the Ayala Museum, or spend the rest of their time exploring the Ayala Center – a commercial complex at par with the world's best!

MANILA OLD AND NEW CITY TOUR – DEPARTS FROM MANILA

Come along for a tour of Manila's past and present.

The tour starts right in the heart of the country's financial center - the City of Makati. Drive through Nielson's Tower along Ayala Boulevard and Forbes Park, an exclusive residential enclave fittingly dubbed Millionaire's Row on your way to our first stop:

The American Cemetery and Memorial

Reputed to be the largest and most beautiful of American memorials outside the Continental United States. Then proceed to the old city of Manila via scenic Roxas Boulevard (also known as Dewey Boulevard in the recent past), passing through Luneta Park (also called Rizal Park in memory of the country's national hero) on your way to:

SUBIC BAY ADVENTURE TOUR – DEPARTS FROM MANILA

Located 75 miles (120 kilometers) northwest of metro Manila, you'll find the former American naval facility known as Subic Naval Base - touted as the biggest U.S. naval facility in the Asia-Pacific region before the eruption of Mt. Pinatubo in 1991 forced the early pull-out of American troops. Since then, the area had been converted into a modern free port and tourism zone.

We depart early from Metro Manila, passing through the provinces of Bulacan and Pampanga. Along the way, you will have a chance to witness the wrath brought by the eruption of Mt. Pinatubo (considered the strongest volcanic eruption in the last century) as you pass through the town of Bacolor in Pampanga. The tour continues towards the province of Zambales where Subic Bay is located. Included in your days itinerary is a visit to Zoobic Safari and a stop at the JEST Camp (Jungle Environmental Survival Training Camp) where indigenous people called "Aetas" demonstrate survival skills in tropical rain forest. The tour departs Subic Bay for a return trip to Manila at 4:00 pm.
